runoutta verkossa | poetry online

Nokturno.fi has an open call for new poetry around the year. We are glad to receive all kinds of poetry but the site's focus is in digital poetry and other genres mentioned in the Info section.

The poems you are planning to send are probably in suitable format for the site but there are few things we'd like to mention about the formats used in most common genres.

Text-only poetry – please send as pdf.

Images and photos – we prefer jpg and png. If your text-based poem includes multiple formatting methods please use these – or html.

Videos and animated poetry – please send us a link to poems location on your Youtube or Vimeo account or use mp4, gif, mov or avi.

Sound poetry – we prefer mp3, wav, aac, and flac. If you have your poem available in for example Spotify or SoundCloud, we welcome links to those services as well.

Poetry generators, games, interactive poems, kinetic poetry and apps– we welcome both links to websites or files. If possible, please avoid file formats and programming languages that are known to cause compatibility problems with the most common website services or browsers. It would also be great if the poem would work in both Windows, Android and OS X operating systems.

Free download– it is also possible to distribute your book in pdf format via Nokturno.fi. If you or your publisher are considering free online distribution, please contact us. We prefer previously published works and ones that have gone through an editing process.

The editorial board at Nokturno.fi is interested in different genres and phenomena in the world of digital poetry, and this list is by no means exclusive. Please let us know about your project!
